THE HOLY LAND EXCURSION.

LETTER FROM "HARDY TWAIN.

[Number Thirty-Eighth]

The Jews of Jerusalem, the Samaritans, the Essenes—men of action, men of thought, men of law, men of war—are all united in their desire to see the Holy Land, and to visit the scenes of their ancestors' labors and sufferings. They come from every part of the world, and from every walk of life, to see the land of their fathers, and to pay their respects to the graves of their heroes. They are all united in their purpose, and their purpose is to see the Holy Land.

The Holy Land, as it is called, is a country of great beauty, and of great interest. It is a country of green fields, of blue skies, and of clear water. It is a country of mountains, and of valleys, and of rivers. It is a country of cities, and of villages, and of towns. It is a country of people, and of animals, and of plants. It is a country of history, and of religion, and of culture. It is a country of beauty, and of interest, and of value.

The Holy Land is a country of great beauty, and of great interest. It is a country of great history, and of great religion, and of great culture. It is a country of great beauty, and of great interest, and of great value.
